The Last of the Merrimac --- Norfolk Navy-Yard and Portsmouth -- Victory upon Victory!

The following is a copy of a private despatch received yesterday from a well-known and highly respectable citizen now at Wash- gerous in this country. It is incompatible with the rehal Confederacy has more of them than 100 Lace Burnours;

WASHINGTON, May 11. Norfolk Nevy Yard is our possession, and the lute, unlimited, uncontrollable and imperial nac blewn up by the rebels. We presume that this will be confirmed by the despatches on our third page. It is indeed erty of the people, take from them all their great news. We have now all the important citics in the Rebel Confederacy, except Richmond, Mobile, and Charleston, and these are tione, State and Federal, by which the lives, net a fourth part as important as some that liherty and property of the people are guaranwe have taken. They will all he ours in a teed, secured and guardod. There are no refew days beyond question. Yes, everything will be ours that is worth tho taking. Our gunhoats can go up James River to Richmond trollable and imperial sovereignty of a convenas soon as they please. The rebel capital is tion as the emhodiment of the assumed soverat our mercy. Except at Corlnth, formidable eignty of a people. That assumed sovereignty. resistance seems to be at an end.

The capture of the Norfolk Navy-Yard is France, confiscated the lands of a great part of an event of great interest. It is there the the land owners of the Kingdom, destroyed all rebels have been huilding their gunhoats, all poblic and all private credit, deprived the peoof which, if not destroyed by the enemy, have of conrse fallen luto our hands. The Yard, when taken possession of hy tho rehels, con- the hravest and most enlightened nations of the tained about 2,500 heavy cannon, and, although many of these have been taken to other crushing despotism. Good men everywhere points for use and others perhaps destroyed, It is probable that a fraction remain, a prize to our gallant army and navy.

The destruction of the Merrimac will thrill every true heart with joy. This relieves the Monitor, the Galena, the Dacotah, the Naugatuck, and the rest of our iron-plated ships from their guard, and they can pass any of the rebel fortifications, and go straight into any rebel ports unharmed, compelling an immediate surren-

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL RAID OF JOS Morgan. - Yestorday at about half-past twelve or one o'clock, when the cars from this city for Nashvillo had got to Woodland, two miles this side of Cave City, they were stopped by Col. John Morgan and his men, numbering about two hundred.

Mejor Coffee and an Irishman fired at the robels, whereupon a considerable number of shots were fired, chiefly by the rebels, who seemed to he alming principally at the engineer, but nobody was killed or hurt. Morgan took possession of the train, which passed on to Cavo Cily, where about forty-five freight cars, throo passenger cars, and one locomo tive were destroyed. One passenger car and the express car were permitted to rotnen to Louisville. Major Coffee and Major Helveti were captured and carried off and eight or ter thousand dollars taken from the express agent

The special object of Morgan was to recapturn the one hundred and eighty-three men including his brother, who were taken the other day hy Gen. Dumont. The prisoners however were not on hoerd, heing still de tained in Nashville. Morgan swore to comgentlemen on the cars that he would have the prisoners at all hazards—thet hy Saturdey next he would, if uecessary, have four thou sand men together for that purpose.

We are told, that, but for the earnest inter position of Mr. Moscs B. Morrison, the route agent, and our fellow-citizen Dr. Bush, both of whom have been fellow-townsmen and in timate acquaintances of John Morgan, the remaining locomotive, passenger car, and express car, would have been destroyed. The mails were spared, and this forbearance, we have no doubt, was due to Mr. Morrison's influence. Mr. M. speaks of Morgan's deport. ment in very favorable torms. The rebels didn't fire till after Maj. Coffee had fired, and even then, as M. stated, without bis order.

Morgan's intended raid, we are told, was known at Elizabethtown yesterday morning. A citizen at that place was about starting or tho cars for Nashvilla, but a friend or acquaint ance warned him not to go, as, if he did, he would be captured. Morgan informed the railroad passengers that Gon. O. M. Mitchell had been cut off by the rebels, hat we earnestly hope and trust that this was a mistake. He and his l'atbfinder Fergusen sent to us their kindest regards, and the former vowed that he would yet make us his prisoner, hut we hope and trust that this was another mistake.

When the passengers returned from Cave City, Morgan was there on the look out for the train from Nashville, but our informant was able to send a despatch to Bowling Green, and thus prevent the cars coming this side of that place. We shall know soon.

How much longer are these raids of Morgan to be continued? Can no way be devised to put an end to them? Must all communication between Louisville and Nashville he broken up by thom? If this hold partisan leader can come with 200 men from Corinth almost to the hank of Green river, what is to preven his gathering 2,000 men, cutting the telegroph wires and making a dash some night into Louisville? We have received the following statement from a passenger on the train captured hy Morgan : To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

MAY 11, 1862. When the morning express train of the Louis when the morning express train of the Louis-ville and Nashville liue got opposite to Wood-land quite a commotion was produced among the passengers upon seeing a company of ladies and children running towards the train, hallooing at the top of their voices and making mo isns for us the stop. When the train stopped amid the din of confusion, we could hear the words. "run back, for Morgan and his men will fire upon you." We could see ahead of us smoke and flume, as if Cave city was on hire; end the cers immediately took the huck treck, but had not preceeded far before obstructions upon the track stopped them. them. Here were several moments of anxions waspense, not knowing what our fate was to he We were much relieved when Morgun's men omerged from the husbes and took possession of the train. They ordered the train back to Cave C'ty. When we got there we found the village untonched, but a train of cira on fire. The train was verionsly reported at from thirty-three to forty-nine cars and a locomotive. Our train wes then parted, and three of the passenger cars sub-jected to the torch likewise. After taking from the express agent a large package of money—the amount not known—Colonel Mor-gan magnanimously permitted the balance of the train and passengers to return to Louisville Whom we got hack as far es Woodland, wa found ix more cars in dames. Most of the cars, I think, were loaded.

Morgan's ostensible object in paying Kentucky this unexpected visit, was to rescue his men taken prisoners by the Federals some days ago. We do not know whether he succeeded or not. He was enxiously looking for the Nashville train when we loft. The number of his men is variously to The number of his men is variously re orted at from two hundred to one thousand. We id not see over forty or fifty.

At the first of the excitement we heard several

At the first of the excitement we heard several pistol reports at the head of the Irain but no one was hurt, and no private Individual or private property was molested. The Federal soldiers were taken prisoners, but such wes the confusion that I could not learn how many. I think, ever, there were only five or six on the train, and one of that number was permitted to return and one of that number was permitted to roturn in virtue of the pleadings of his wife, who happened to he on board. Among the number taken I heard the names of Msjor Coffee and Msjor Helveti. Col. Morgan spared the mails for the sake of an old friend, the carrier, Mr. Morrison.

THE CITY JUDGESHIP.

it has occurred to me that too little interest if felt hy our citizens in the ensuing alection for city Judge. The position is one of the very high est importance, and the people of the city chould lock to it that it be filled by one who is competent in every particular to discharge the delicate and responsible duties pertaining to the office. I respectfully suggest that a convention of citizens be held at an early day for the selection of a condidate norm whom the entire level vote of the lidate upon whom the entire loyal vote of the city may be concentrated.

C. H. DAVIS, saptain Commending the Western flotilla on the Mississippi river pro tem. NEW MARKET, VA., May 10. Descriors from the enemy assert that the recent nion victories cansed the greatest depressio ong the rebel officers, who look upon their among the rever omcors, who look upon their cause as hopoless.

The soldiera are very ragged, end without the means of renewing their clothing, and hundreds would desert if it was generally known that they would be kindly received by our officers.

The enemy's ranks are becoming daily thinned hy desertion.

No new movemente of the enemy have been disclosed within the last 18 honrs. Scettering rebel scouts are occasionally seen in the Eastern Valloy above Columbia bridge, who flee on the pproach of our men.

The wheat crop in this country is inxnrient, and the fruit-trees give promise of an abundant yield, and ere considered beyond denger from J. N. Harris & Co., proprietors, Cincinnati, al4d&w2m Active scrntiny is kept up between here an

TROY, N. Y., May 11.

The fire commenced on Saturday at noon, and raged till eundown. It caught in the bridge over the Hudson helonging to the Rensæeller and Saratoga Railroad. One thousand feet of the bridge was destroyed. The wind was blowing furiously, and carried the burning hearde to various parts of the city, setting fire to a number of places. This was the cause of so many hires in different directions. The fire depertment could not do much to stop the cooffagretion. After the fire had hurned half a tlock on both sidee of River street it was arrested. In the meantime it had made fearful progress in the Fourth, Third, and partly in the Second Warde, most of them being private residences, among the best in the city.

This whole number of buildings destroyed is between 500 and 600. The loss approximetes three million dollars. Total insurance one million, our hundred thousand dollars.

The business portion of the city enffered comparatively little.

Annong the buildings destroyed are the Troy.

Among the buildings destroyed are the Troy river bridge, Sixth-street Presbyterian Church, Scotch Presbyterian, Methodist, Free Chapel, Orphan Asylum, Children's Asylum, Reneallaer Poloytichnic Institute, Troy Academy, Mrs. Warren's Femnle Charity School, Union flotel, Wosbington Hall Hotel, Fulton House, and Troy City Bank. Among the heaviet sufferers are furley's mathematical instrument makers, and Gnrley's mathematical instrument makers, and Shelton & Greenstore, founders. The area burnt over is about fifty acras. PENSIONS AND BOUNTY. a3 d3m° Office No. 4 Court Place, Louisville, K HOG CHOLERA.

Christiansburg, Suring Co., Kv., April 23, 1863.

To all whom it may concern:
About two years eince my hogs were badly diseased with choicers, and I was fearful that I would lose the greater portion of them unless I could procure a remedy to arrest the disease. I heard of highter's remedy and concluded to try it. I purchased his medicine and gave it according to his directions, and my hogs were soon restored to health, and fed well during the season. Last spring while sheen frem home my hors again were attacked with cholors, and on my return I found them badly diseased. I gave them several doses of Lichter's remedy, and soon restored to health, and all the remedy, and soon restored them to health, and they have been feeding ever since as well at lever had hogs to feed. From the many tests which I have made with Lighter's b medy for the cure of hog cholers, I am satisfied that it is of great value, and I advise all far mars and feeders to purchase it, helleving it will do all that he recommends it to do if given according to his directions. I am a farmer, and trade largely in took, both in Cincinnati and Louleville markets.
